Season and Crop Report for 1939-40 (1347 Fasli)

THE arrangement of appendices is the same as last year, except that on account of the expansion of ground-nuts, this crop has been removed from the head "Other Oil-seeds" of Statement III, and its area has been separately recorded. Irrigation from tube-wells has also been distinguished in Statement IV.

Complete returns were received from all the districts except Dehra Dun, Aligarh, Bareilly, Shahjahanpur, Jhansi, Jalaun, Gorakhpur, Rae Bareli, Kheri, Fyzabad and Gonda which were under settlement or record operations; for these tracts figures have been taken from the previous year's returns where necessary to complete the district and provincial totals.

CHARACTER OF THE SEASON

Rainfall was registered at 287 rain-gauge stations, including 16 meteorological observatories. Of the stations under the control of the District Officers, 87 per cent. were inspected during the year under report as against 91 per cent. last year. Statement I

The monsoon started early in the month of June, 1939, and remained active till the end of the month causing general and wide-spread rain almost all over the Province. During July, the monsoon was less active than usual in some parts of the Province, but the rainfall was general. The total rainfall of the month was in slight to moderate defect of the normal in the Meerut, Rohilkhand and Gorakhpur Divisions, while elsewhere it was either normal or in excess of it. In August, the rainfalll was deficient throughout the Province excluding the Fyzabad Division where it was normal. Widespread rain was received in the first half of September: the monsoon withdrew from the Province in the third week and the weather during the second half of the month was dry except for some scattered showers and local rain in the eastern part of the Province. Some locally heavy falls causing damage were reported during this month; Agra had a very heavy fall of 16 inches in two days and Allahabad recorded 6 inches in one day. Except for some local rain, the month of October was practically dry.

The rabi season opened with a rather dry weather and insufficient moisture in the soil. November and December were generally quite dry, the rainfall being cent. per cent. in defect of the normal throughout the Province. These conditions prevailed till the first half of January but during the second half light to heavy rain was received in the Province and this proved beneficial to the standing crops. The total rainfall of the month was, however, in defect of the normal everywhere except in the Meerut and Agra Divisions where it exceeded the normal. General and widespread rainfall was received in the months of February and March; it exceeded the normal everywhere except in the Jhansi Division in February and in the Meerut Division in March where it was below the normal. There were, however, intervals between each shower and no damage to the crops was done. The weather during April and May was rather wet but did not hamper the harvesting of the crops.

Besides drought which was responsible for some damage to the kharif crop at places, sugarcane suffered considerable damage from red-rot disease in the Gorakhpur Division, and in the districts of Bahraich, Gonda, Azamgarh, Ballia and Jaunpur : ratoon suffered extensively from this disease. The heavy rains and strong winds in September also damaged the cotton crop. Slight damage to rabi crops by hailstorm was reported from certain places in the months of February and March. Fungoid disease caused some damage to linseed and rapeseed, specially to the latter.

AREA UNDER CULTIVATION

Statement II

The cultivated or net-cropped area rose by 420,709 acres or 1·2 per cent. over the preceding year's area and 1,206,517 acres or 3·5 per cent. over the normal area. The greatest deviations from the previous year occurred in the Meerut and Agra Divisions where the cultivated area rose by about 5 per cent. each. Elsewhere the deviations were small and call for no comments. As compared with the normal area, the Jhansi Division showed the highest increase of 15·9 per cent. followed by about 4 per cent. or a little above it in each of the Agra, Allahabad, Benares and Gorakhpur Divisions. Naini Tal District shows a decrease of 16·9 per cent. In other divisions the variations were small.

Statement II (a)

Out of the total area of 606 lakhs of acres, about 98 lakhs were classed as " other uncultivated land excluding current fallows " and about 97 lakhs as " not available for cultivation." The details of the latter will be found in Statement II(a).

CROP AREA

Statement III

The season being favourable for kharif sowings the area rose by 918,118 acres or 4 per cent. over the preceding year's area. The increase was common to all the divisions, being most noticeable in the Lucknow Division where the area went up by 7·3 per cent. while in other divisions it varied between 5·4 per cent. and 1·2 per cent. As compared with the normal it rose by 5 per cent. on the whole. In this case also the increase was general except in the Naini Tal District and the Jhansi Division where the area fell below the normal area by 13·6 and 1 per cent. respectively. The increase was the largest in the Benares, Meerut and Gorakhpur Divisions, being 11·7, 10·5 and 9·4 per cent. respectively : elsewhere the deviations were below 6 per cent.

Partly due to insufficient moisture over a greater part of the Province and partly to the fact that a full area under kharif was sown, the rabi area declined by 710,127 acres or 3·3 per cent. Only the Meerut and Agra Divisions succeeded in sowing an area substantially in excess of the last year's area, the increases being 10·1 and 11·3 per cent. respectively. Gram was responsible for most of the increase in these divisions. Gorakhpur, Lucknow, Fyzabad and Benares Divisions showed marked decreases of 14·2, 10·5, 9·1, and 7·8 per cent. in that order. In other divisions the deviations were small to take any account of. As compared with the normal there was a rise of 3·7 per cent. on the whole, the highest being of 31·5 per cent. in the Jhansi Division followed by 13·5 per cent. in the Agra Division and 6·8 per cent. in the Allahabad Division. In the Naini Tal District there was a decrease of 27 per cent. The deviations were small in the remaining divisions.

The area under hot weather crop depends largely on the character of the two preceding harvests. In the year under report these harvests were on the whole good and there was accordingly less need for another food crop. The area consequently shows a decline of 14,215 acres or 5 per cent. A decrease of 2·6 per cent. in the double-cropped area was mainly due to the decline in the rabi area.

The table below shows percentage variation in the areas of the principal kharif crops :

Crop	Variations in areas in 1939-40, the areas of 1938-39 being taken as 100	Variations in areas in 1939-40, the areas of 1937-38 being taken as 100
Rice early	100	111
Rice late	99	105
Maize	102	108
Juar	103	103
Bajra	116	114
Small millets	109	91
Sugarcane	115	86
Cotton	74	83

Practically speaking all the crops show an increase except cotton. The decline in cotton was only to be expected from the low price of the previous year and the popularity of sugarcane, which is more paying. Rice was sown on very much the same area as last year although it was still 13 per cent. above the normal area. The timely rains coupled with the dearness of food grains led to larger areas being sown with bajra and juar.

The following table shows variations in the areas under the principal rabi crops :

Crops	Variations in areas in 1939-40, the areas of 1938-39 being taken as 100	Variations in areas in 1939-40, the areas of 1937-38 being taken as 100
All rabi crops	97	99
Wheat	95	102
Barley	96	99
Gram	98	94
Linseed	100	89
Rapeseed	117	142
Poppy	94	74

It will be seen that all the rabi crops except linseed and rapeseed were sown on a smaller scale, a fact which follows naturally from the character of the season. Rapeseed did well owing to high prices obtaining for this crop.

Irrigated Area

Statement IV

The net irrigated area was practically the same as that of the preceding year, the increase being 0·1 per cent. only. The percentages of the irrigated area to cultivated area was 33·2 per cent. Of this 45 per cent. was served by ordinary wells, about 4 per cent. by tube-wells 32 per cent. by canals, 0·1 per cent. by reservoirs, while 19 per cent. was watered by other sources. Well irrigation showed an increase of about 5 per cent., while the canal-irrigated area was the same as last year. The area irrigated from other sources fell by 8 per cent. and that from reservoirs by 70·5 per cent. In the latter case the large deviation is due to the fact that in the Mirzapur District tanks were wrongly classed as reservoirs before.

The total number of masonry wells constructed during the year under report was 18,222 but the net increase was only 5,154 as 13,068 old masonry wells fell into disuse. In the matter of the construction of wells, Gorakhpur District takes the lead with 1,359 wells followed by Etah and Sultanpur Districts, with 1,125 and 1,096 wells respectively while in the districts of Jaunpur, Jhansi and Basti the number constructed was 900 or more. The total number of masonry wells actually in use rose from 621,331 in the preceding year to 633,770 in the year under report. The total number of non-masonry wells in use rose from 513,314 to 561,402.

OUTTURN AND TOTAL PRODUCE

Last year both the harvests were adversely affected by the unfavourable seasonal conditions at the time of maturity. Conditions were more favourable during the year under report with the result that the outturn was all round far better than in the preceding year. Statement V

Of the kharif crops, rice early rose from 70 per cent. to 86 per cent. of the normal; rice late from 73 to 86; juar from 70 to 86; bajra from 67 to 87; mendua from 70 to 89; maize from 63 to 85; til from 73 to 91; sugarcane from 71 to 90; and cotton from 62 to 68. Cotton suffered from want of rain in August and from heavy rains and strong winds in September.

Of the rabi crops, wheat and barley rose from 72 per cent. each to 89 and 81 per cent. of the normal respectively; gram from 75 to 87; and linseed and rapeseed from 77 and 66 to 89 and 88 per cent. of the normal respectively.

PRICES AND STOCK

The condition of the agricultural stock was on the whole satisfactory. Fodder supplies were generally adequate. Cattle disease such as rinderpest, foot-and-mouth disease and haemorrhagic septicaemia prevailed throughout the whole year. The mortality figures are :— Statement VI

	Seizures	Deaths
Rinderpest	33,813	19,012
Foot-and-mouth	65,390	626
Haemorrhagic septicaemia	10,271	8,367

The following table gives the retail prices of the principal agricultural crops ruling on the last day of each month in the Cawnpore market :

June	3.721	2·712	3·200	2·807	2·759	4·848

When the year opened the effects of the indifferent character of the previous year's harvests were being felt and the prices were generally high with an upward tendency. Probably due to the outbreak of war there was a sharp rise in the month of September, 1939. The price of juar, maize and rice eased off somewhat when the kharif crop came on to the market but the price of other crops went up further. There was a slight fall in the price of wheat and barley when the rabi was reaped. With the exception of gram and rice, the year closed with prices running at a higher level than in the beginning.
